

When Caring is your Calling...

...your helping hands will find a world of opportunity.

With people living longer and a “boomer” population that has come to expect high quality healthcare, nursing is one of the future’s most secure occupations. Besides a healthy job market, practical nurses enjoy personal rewards and a sense of self esteem. As a nurse, you will be responsible for the well-being of patients, teaching them how to achieve and maintain better health and brighter, more satisfying futures. In short, you will enhance the quality of human life. Secure career opportunities await you in hospitals and clinics, outpatient care centers, doctors’ offices, nursing facilities and in private home care.

Your helping hands will be doubly rewarded with the satisfaction of helping others coupled with the security of a promising future with unlimited opportunity!

AU ADELPHI UNIVERSITY

COURSE TITLE: PRACTICAL NURSING

All applicants must take and pass the nurse entrance exam: Test of Essential Academic Skills (TEAS) in the Spring of their junior year.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

This is a 17-month program (Level 1 and Level 2) that begins in the student's senior year. During the first year of the program, Level 1 students learn theoretical nursing concepts and applied basic nursing skills built on the principles of biological, physical and social sciences. Level 1 provides classroom, laboratory and clinical experiences with an emphasis on safe care of the adult client at a health-related facility. Level 2 of the program, beginning in September following high school graduation, is designed to build upon previous nursing knowledge and related theory with a focus on evidence-informed nursing practices using critical thinking and the nursing process. Level 2 classes are held at the Adult Education Center in Brentwood and health-related facilities Monday through Friday 8:00 AM to 2:30 PM. Upon successful completion of 1,260 hours of instruction and program requirements, graduates are eligible to take the National Council Licensing Examination for Practical Nurses (NCLEX-PN).
